

Women in Architecture Awards 2017

Moira Gemmill Prize

ENTRY GUIDELINES

This award recognises excellence in design and a bright future, with an emphasis on achievements and projects completed. Renamed in memory of the late Moira Gemmill, the £10,000 prize fund aims to support the continuing professional development of the winner/s. You need not be a qualified architect, may be under 45, studying architecture, have just started a practice or be completing your first project. Previous winners include: Gabriela Etcheagaray, co-founder of Ambrosi Etcheagaray (2016); vPPR founders Tatiana von Preussen, Catherine Pease and Jessica Reynolds (2015); sole practitioner Julia King (2014); Spanish architect Olga Felip (2013); and John McAslan + Partners' Hannah Lawson (2012).

The judges reserve the right to move entrants between categories

DEADLINE

5 December 2016

CONDITIONS

- The award is open to applications from students, architects, sole practitioners and women-led practices
- Applicants can nominate themselves for the award, or someone else

WHAT YOU WILL NEED TO SUBMIT

There is no specific entry form for this award. Please submit a Word or PDF document with the following:

- Name of nominee
- Contact details of person submitting the entry - including a daytime telephone number
- Nomination statement - an approximately 200-word statement outlining the nominee's current work and practice
- Images and descriptions of selected projects. Any images sent should be copyright free and high resolution (300dpi at A4 size, to a maximum size of 10MB)

HOW TO SUBMIT YOUR ENTRY

Send your entry to:

womeninarchitectureawards@emap.com or

Women in Architecture Awards 2016
c/o Rupert Bickersteth
The Architectural Review
69-77 Paul Street
London EC2A 4NW

For postal entries, please ensure digital files are included for all images submitted

In partnership with

The Architectural Review

Proud supporters of the Women in Architecture programme

Finalists will be invited to present to the jury in London on Thursday 26 January 2017. Please save the date